Learn about current and historical environmental challenges and responses, from climate change to social justice.

Recognize the complexity in environmental issues and our local and global connection to the issues.

Participate in a dynamic and unique learning experience and be taught by two instructors with varied expertise.

Work in small teams and present at a public poster symposium.

Contact info: Ana Wieman, enviradv@uw.edu