• Increases in climate change information does not always correlate to increased action to mitigate climate change
• The best way to engage communities meaningfully is to have a trusted communicator share the message
• Rhetorical devices and strategies can make information more digestible and accessible for audiences.

December 2nd, Online, 4:30PM-7:30PM