Climate Activism: A connection between the youth and minorities

Brian Muoneke, @brianenvr495, Program on the Environment, University of Washington

Site supervisor: Rachel Brombaugh, King County Climate Action Team

Faculty advisor: Eli Wheat, Program on the Environment, University of Washington

- Climate Change continues to be a great concern, especially on the west coast.

- Disadvantaged and Minority communities are some affected groups.

- The aim of this project was to seek more action in climate discussion towards minorities and the youth.

December 2nd, Online, 4:30PM-7:30PM