The current agricultural food system is unethical and unsustainable.

Indigenous people have been living sustainably off of the land for centuries.

The aim of my study was to explore how incorporating Indigenous knowledge can improve agricultural practices on a global scale.

December 2nd, Online, 4:30PM-7:30PM